8TH LOAN GOAL STILL DISTANT

According to figures up to Tuesday night, Newmarket citizens have bought about the same amount of Eighth victory bonds that they had at this time during the Seventh loan. Newmarket's total is $147,850 so far and the objective is $360,000. Other districts are showing somewhat the same in results.

Georgina township has an objective of $70,000 and has sold $10,050; Sutton, objective, $90,000, sold, $78,400; North Gwillimbury, objective, $50,000, sold, $52,700; East Gwillimbury, objective, $175,000, sold, $70,950; Whitchurch, objective, $165,000, sold $58,000.

Victory loan officials point out that in nearly all the districts the loan objective has been raised. They emphasize the need of making every effort possible to buy a bond and then "buy one more." Eighth Victory loan funds will be used in a large part to carry out the rehabilitation work that is owing to the men and women who have served in Canadian fighting forces.

"The end of the war is not the end of war spending," as one official put it. "The money raised in this loan will be used to continue rehabilitation work as the men return from overseas."

Monday afternoon PO J. G. Teasdale, Newmarket, recently returned from overseas, spoke to the workers at the Davis Leather plant. On the same platform was Major Edward Clayton Fuller, Toronto, veteran of the D-day parachute drop in France. He told of his experiences with the First Canadian Parachute Battalion. He said that for himself and for the rest of the Canadians overseas, victory did not mean when the last shot was fired but when every Canadian soldier was at home and in a job. "That is what the funds from the Eighth Victory loan will help ensure," he said.

FO Teasdale described a bombing trip from the time the crews were "briefed" until the planes landed, their mission completed. He told of the tremendous cost in money and men that the war was taking and urged everyone to buy as many bonds as they could to make sure that victory would be final and lasting.

Citizens Of Newmarket

The official announcement of the "unconditional surrender" of Nazi Germany is expected hourly. Without detracting from the happiness and relief in this knowledge that peace is that much closer, may I respectfully suggest that our rejoicing and celebrations be marked with dignity and restraint.

The war is not yet over. There are many battles yet to be fought and won. Let us show by an attitude of grateful thanksgiving rather than unrestrained rejoicing, the significance we attach to this event.

MAYOR DR. L. W. DALES.

If the official announcement of V-E day comes before 10:30 a.m., the day will be a public holiday. A parade will be held at 2:30 p.m. and there will be public services in Lions club park. SALVAGE DAY MAY 5

Householders are asked to lay out their bundles of rag and paper salvage early Saturday, May 5, so that they won't be missed when the Newmarket Boy Scouts make their rounds to collect them. Rag and paper salvage of all sorts is needed to aid the war effort. Newmarket's objective is 20 tons this time, an increase of five tons over the last collection and an indication of how pressing the need is.

MILITARY CAMP NEARS ITS GOAL

Excellent progress in the Eighth Victory Loan drive now in its second week is being made at Camp No. 23. Latest reports, and these are of Wednesday noon, issued by Lieut. Fred White, sales manager, are to the effect the camp will top its quota before the week is out. The objective is $52,000.

Laboring full blast, the soldier salesmen have amassed a total of 735 sales for a sum of $68,800. At this rate with another week and a half to go before the end of the campaign, the objective is more than likely to be doubled. Regardless of whether or not this will be achieved, camp personnel will have accomplished what they set out to do, to attain their goal with plenty to spare.

No official word has been forthcoming as to when the next dance will take place in the camp drill hall.

FREED FROM NAZIS

A year from the day on which they received a cable that their son, WO1 Alver Leader, was missing, Mr. and Mrs. George Leader received word that their son had been freed from a German prison camp. WO1 Leader was a tall gunner aboard a bomber which was shot down over Albania.

WO1 Leader went overseas two years and a half ago and saw action in North Africa and Italy where he flew with the R.A.F. He has a brother, Irab, in Holland and another brother, Arnold, in England.

FILM STAR EXPECTED

Claude Rains, noted film star, is expected to be the guest artist at the Victory Revue, May 8, in the drill hall at the military camp. Admission to the review is a receipt for the purchase of a camp. Admission to the review victory bonds will be raffled to those holding draw tickets. The tickets are on sale through the Newmarket Veterans' Association and members of the Lions club.

ROOM FOR ALL WITHIN NATION —DR. SID. SMITH

One of the main problems of Canada is that sectional differences conflict with the general interests of the country, Dr. Sidney Smith, principal of University College and president elect of the University of Toronto, stated Sunday at Pickering College. Dr. Smith was guest speaker at the college chapel service.

He took as his text, the Latin motto, E Pluribus Unum, "from the many, one." "This is the genius of our democracy, that in our diversity of race and creed, we are one as a nation," he said. "That diversity is our wealth."

Dr. Smith spoke of this as a lesson he had learned during his life. "I was born in the Maritimes, worked in Ontario, and then went to the west where I taught for ten years," he said. "I have seen something of Canada and have come to know the rich variety of our country. I would not see that variety lost."

"Canada as a confederation has been exceedingly difficult to govern," said Dr. Smith. "The moment Confederation became a fact, there was set in motion the conflict between local interests and national interests, between sectional differences and national policies."

"It has been my experience that we talk too much about these differences. I know the difficulties, the distinctions made between what is of local benefit and what is of national benefit. But I am absolutely opposed to wiping out those differences. It would be disastrous. We would lose our national genius if we sought to impress a uniform pattern, a national mode, on this country."

Through this diversity, we have learned to appreciate others, said Dr. Smith. We have learned to accord the same opportunities to others. "That is the genius of our democracy, that is our ultimate strength. In our diversity, we are finding unity."

Dr. Smith said that in Winnipeg, it was the custom of the Winnipeg Free Press to print New Year's greetings in 72 different languages because there were among the readers of the paper, 72 different races. "In the University of Manitoba, with an enrolment of 4,000, 40 percent of the student body came from families of recent European origin," he said.

They kept their national customs even while becoming Canadians. "It was a rich heritage they brought us and surely this country is large enough and great enough to take these varying cultures and weld them into one national culture without losing their individual characteristics," he said.

"There is a lesson for us from our men and women in uniform. They have enlisted as Canadians, not as Maritimers or Westerners, or Quebecers. They fight as Canadians. God give us the vision and strength to learn the lesson given us by our men and women in uniform."

Check Name On Voters' Lists Citizens Urged

A court of revision will be held for provincial voters in the council chambers at 10 a.m., May 7, with Judge Barton presiding. The provincial voters' lists are being taken from the municipal voters' lists and every Newmarket citizen is urged to make sure that his name is on the municipal voters' list. Deadline for filing changes is 10 a.m., May 7. Copies of the municipal voters' lists are hanging in the post office and in the municipal office.

Any changes to be made in the provincial voters' list, any names to be added, or any inaccuracies should be filed with the town clerk, Wesley Brooks, at the municipal office as soon as possible. There is a very limited time in which this can be done, and voters are urged to check the lists as soon as they can.

The dominion voters' lists are also hanging in the post office for inspection by the voters. A court of revision for the dominion voters' lists will be held at a later date.

J. E. SMITH NOMINATED; W. P. MULOCK KEPT FROM CONTEST BY ILL HEALTH

The members of the Opposition were placed in a position where they were only rubber stamps for the Liberal government, Liberal Leader Mitchell F. Hepburn declared at the Liberal nomination meeting Saturday night at Richmond Hill.

"We were placed in a position where we either had to support objectionable legislation or force an election. Eventually, we had to take the latter course," he said.

Mr. Hepburn denied that there was any sort of an alliance between the C.C.F. party and the Liberal party. "I went to Queen's Park determined to give reasonable support to the leader of the minority government which presided over the affairs of the government but Col. Drew became increasingly arrogant as time went on," he said. "He would bring in bills without consulting us and thereby put us on

J. E. Smith, editor of the Richmond Hill Liberal, was accorded the Liberal nomination as candidate for York North in the federal election without opposition at the nomination meeting in Richmond Hill Saturday night. Two candidates were nominated for the provincial contest but one, Capt. the Rev. Frank Mestey, asked that his name be withdrawn in favor of Robt. W. Scott, Vaughan township, who was given the nomination without dissenting voice.

"I accept the nomination with a deep sense of humility and an appreciation of the honor you have bestowed on me," said Mr. Smith. "To follow in the footsteps of Bill Mulock is no easy task. I do not presume to claim to fit his shoes but with your help, I will try."

"I accept the nomination with a full appreciation of my shortcomings and limitations and with no other claim to the position than an understanding of the people of the riding. During the 20 years of my editorship, it has been my privilege to enjoy the confidence of many people in this riding. I know the heart of York North, the dreams and hopes, the aspirations of those who people this historic riding."

"I believe the Liberal party is the only party for these trying times. The Liberal party is the middle party, between the radicalism of one party and the reactionarism of the other. The Liberal party is equipped with the qualities and experience of leadership and policy which is needed in these trying times. The war effort of Canada has

Postmaster-General W. P. Mulock, member for York North, will not contest the federal election, it was announced at the Liberal nomination meeting at Richmond Hill arena Saturday night. Col. Mulock has been ill with pneumonia for the past four weeks and is at present in the Ottawa Civic hospital.

A letter from Mrs. Mulock was read to the meeting. She said that Col. Mulock's illness had been further complicated by the strain imposed on him by his cabinet position and its responsibilities and on doctor's orders, Col. Mulock would have to withdraw from active participation in politics.

On a motion from N. L.

Mathews the meeting went on record as expressing deep regret at the postmaster-general's withdrawal and the hope of an early recovery and return to political life.

"Bill Mulock has given unstintingly of his time and energy in the service of York North," said J. E. Smith, Federal Liberal nominee. "When he became postmaster-general, he went at it in dead earnest and his record through the trying years of war has won the admiration of his colleagues and of the people of Canada."

Col. Mulock was the youngest of the ministers when he entered the cabinet at the age of 43. He entered federal politics in 1930, running against the late T. Herbert Lennox who defeated him. In 1934, he won the bye-election caused by the death of Mr. Lennox. He has since retained his seat through the 1935 and 1940 elections.

ELECTION REPORTS

The federal and provincial elections come at an historic moment. The men elected will be called upon to face the trying problems of transition from war to peace. They will share in determining the kind of peace Canada will make and will share in the responsibility for its success or failure. That the electors will have the maximum knowledge of the men who seek their vote, The Era and Express is printing as complete reports of their activities in this district as possible. At a later date, the editor hopes to print the candidates' platforms and the principles of their respective parties as written by the candidates. Each candidate will be offered the same amount of space and the reports will be published together.

LESSONS FOR CANADIANS

Dr. Sidney Smith, principal of University College and president-elect of the University of Toronto, has two lessons for all of Canada. The first is that we talk too much about the differences among us and try too little to understand each other's problems and aspirations; the other is that Canada is large enough to accommodate citizens of varying religious and racial origins without friction. Were these two lessons recognized by every Canadian, we would not now have the disunity that troubles us.

Sectionalism has been encouraged in Canada by geography and economic growth. There is no similarity between the economic conditions of the maritimes and those of the prairies. An abundance of natural resources and hydro-electric power has enabled Ontario to become a manufacturing province while Saskatchewan has been limited to agriculture. A mountain chain separates British Columbia from the rest of Canada. The western provinces are isolated by the rough country north of Lake Superior. Entrance to Quebec is like the entrance into a different country instead of a different province. The inhabitants of these areas see Canada only in terms of their own surroundings. We have not learned to see Canada as a nation of which our province is only a part.

One by-product of the war that has been of benefit is the movement of troops and war workers from one part of the country to another. Canadians from every part of the dominion have mixed with their fellows and through acquaintance, have had a first hand opportunity to learn something of those parts of Canada lying outside their own immediate province. If the understanding engendered by this acquaintance can be continued, the geographic and economic obstacles in the way of national unity will in large part be overcome.

UNDER THE WIRE

Along with, we imagine, several hundred other fellow income taxpayers, we cleaned up the pesky document and got it to the post office just in time to receive a pre-midnight postmark. It was a close call. We thought we had plenty of time but we were caught on a snag buried in section 15B. It was quite simple once we understood it but it took a long time to understand it.

Each year, we approach the business of making out the income tax form with high spirits. We'll go at it calmly, we say. We'll just fill out the form as directed and it shouldn't take five minutes. After all, our reasoning tells us, the men at Ottawa know what they want and they have made it as easy as possible to get it. If they had to send back a lot of forms for corrections, the overhead would eat up all the profits. So, we say, all we have to do is to follow instructions and it will come out right in the end. The theory is sound enough although we have yet to prove it. Something or other is always lurking in ambush ready to trip us up.

One thing we learned to beware of is having pre-conceptions about the wording of the forms. You must approach them with an absolutely blank mind. For example, on the T1 Special, 13D(1) reads "Savings Tax remaining before reduction" and there follows a place for the figure. Now if you have any ideas about the meaning of reduction, you are likely to ask reduction from what, reduction by who, and all sorts of other things, before you read the next line which says "Savings Tax payable one-half of item D(1)." We were in quite a tizzy before we decided that "reduction" meant halving. We had pre-conceptions of the meaning of "reduction." Incidentally, have you looked in your overcoat pocket to make sure that you mailed your income tax form?

In Passing

We are inclined to view the report of Hitler's death Tuesday with some suspicion. It would profit the Nazis to spread such a report; it would enable them to start a legend of Hitler's martyrdom which would help keep Nazism alive. Perhaps too, they hope the report will act as a smoke screen to shield the dictator's escape. On the other hand, there is always the possibility that Hitler has been long dead and the news is being broadcast now in an effort to make up a "hero's death" for the little man.

Political meetings are not what they used to be. Of course nothing is what it used to be to our elders. In the case of a political meeting, however, they seem to have irrefutable reasons for the statement. In the old days, it was often the custom to have a speaker from each of the two parties on the same platform. They would debate public issues with stormy eloquence which reached such heights as "You're a liar," and "You're another."

One of our sources for such historical material told us that in his town, it was no uncommon thing for the two rival speakers to drive in the same buggy and to register in the same hotel. At night, they would speak at a public meeting where the intensity of the debate would often provoke a minor riot in the audience. After an hour or so of name-calling, they would leave the hall, arm in arm, and in the morning, drive on together to the next town. Most of the time, they left behind them all the makings of a first class feud with brother turned against brother and neighbor against neighbor. In a few days, however, the excitement would die down and the townsfolk would serenely wait for the next meeting. Political meetings today seem like afternoon tea-parties in comparison.

Folks aren't taking any chances with the fuel situation next winter. The screech of a saw cutting firewood is heard all over town.

Don't forget salvage day Saturday. The rag and paper salvage you put out for collection by the Boy Scouts is another blow against the enemy.

It seems to us that the pre-campaign activities of political parties have largely included a commentary on whether or not a nominee is a "good man with the ladies." Maybe it is because the candidates are only now recognizing that their riding has both male and female voters in it. Nearly every candidate introduced on a public platform has had reference made to his "appeal" to the ladies. It is mostly answered, however, by a wry rejoinder and a display of a balding pate.

Something else we have noticed in the pre-campaign preliminaries is the fact that the candidates invariably refer to their riding as North York. We are somewhat hazy as to whether there are historical preferences for that name, but in the Parliamentary Guide, the riding is listed as York North. We make the change when reporting the speeches with our tongue in our cheek and a hope that history won't refute us.

It is every citizen's duty to check whether his name is on the voters' list and to see whether he is correctly listed. If not, it is equally his duty to appear before the court of revision and make sure the necessary changes are made. There is nothing more precious among the institutions of free men than the right to vote. Be sure you will be able to exercise that right.

What Others Think

DEMOCRACY

(The Times Review, Fort Erie)

Democracy is government by the people, with the people possessing entire control and equal rights in all that concerns or belongs to the state. It is government with the consent of the governed, who express their will through the vote.

The infallible test of democracy is the liberty of the individual to speak his mind at all times and in all places on matters of public interest. He may extol the leader of the state, his parties and his policies or, privately and publicly, he may roundly condemn them. The individual citizen may support the party he has freely chosen or, if no existing group pleases him, he may start his own political party.

This wide liberty accorded to the individual is the very essence of democracy. On this, all other rights within the democratic state are based. Take this individual liberty away, or take any small part of it away, and democracy decays.

Democracy is humanity at its best and, like humanity, it is compounded of nobility, selfishness and error. It was introduced to mankind by Cleisthenes of Athens, just before the beginning of the Golden Age of Greece 2,400 years ago. Since that time it has flourished, faded, died and been reborn in many parts of the world. Ever has it remained the ideal and hope of men everywhere who are wise, tolerant and just.

In one short lifetime, Canadians have seen the great democracies of Europe pass away. Four centuries before Christ the philosopher, Plato, described the process: "Tyrants spring up as from a root . . . one is usually chosen as leader . . . someone bold and unscrupulous . . . who curries favor with the people by giving them other men's property . . . He surrounds himself with an armed guard, and emerges as a tyrant over the very people who raised him to power."

Now untold millions of disillusioned Europeans are looking to the democratic New World for political salvation and the restoration of their freedom.

Democracy in Canada and the United States, despite its disabilities, has maintained consistently the freedom of the individual and has protected him from the state, instead of making him a servant of the state. At the same time the North American system of government has raised the standards of living and the production facilities of the ordinary people to point higher than any previously known to history. On its merits it stands as the finest form of government known to man.

In the classic definition of democracy are the words: " . . . the consent of the governed . . . through the vote." To those who live under democracy, then, the prime obligation of every citizen is to use his ballot. To vote in every election—whether it be municipal, federal or provincial.

Let every Canadian pause and think for a moment about the form of government under which he lives. It is a system that has made Canada great and kept Canada free. Except among our friendly neighbors to the south, no other people have as much as so small a cost. Preserve democracy by voting for it.

THE COMMON ROUND

By ISABEL INGLIS COLVILLE

PUBLICITY

There was a time when women shrank from publicity; like shrinking violets they shunned publicity, their only weapons of offence and defence being their personality, which, like the perfume of the violet, could be used for good or ill. If the personality was strong enough they sometimes achieved remarkable feats of influence like the women who had salons and shaped the destinies of empires or like others who, fired with zeal for some cause, faced the limelight and achieved remarkable things.

But all this shrinking from publicity departed with the Victorian and Edwardian eras and now publicity has no terror for the women who take their citizenship seriously and feel that they have a distinct contribution to make to their country and the world in general.

Since women have formed organizations like the I.O.D.E. with their motto, For King And Country, and the W.I. with their motto, For Home And Country, they have achieved much for the mental, physical and spiritual welfare of their sisters all over the world. Look at the great nursing organization which has come into being since Florence Nightingale waged her battle almost single-handed against the ignorance and stupidity of those caring for the sick.

What did not make Adeleus accomplish in making us social welfare conscious and one could go on for pages citing what the women who were not afraid of publicity have done for the world. And coming down to cases—each Women's Institute has a definite place in its community. It can be like a clear, fresh spring, giving cups of cold water to the thirsty, or like a stagnant pool with nothing to give to anybody.

We can make each meeting something to remember—a place where things of moment and of the moment are discussed—not just talked over, with digressions to the

WE MUST NOT FAIL

All should hope, I think, that the San Francisco conference will result in an effective agreement. Prime Minister Mackenzie King says: "If another war breaks out in 20 or 30 years it will be more horrible than this war. In another war the last restraints would go and unrestrained savagery, equipped with new and frightful weapons, would spread over the world. If the conference is a failure, God alone knows what will happen to the future of this world."

I believe all sane Canadians will agree with the prime minister. Nevertheless, it is foolish to think everything is hunky-dory and all we must do is sit back and wait for peace to drop in our laps. We must be prepared to make great sacrifices to completely defeat dollar imperialism by new international policies.

Consequently, the following episode as reported by Lincoln Steffens, who covered the Versailles conference after the last war, is still interesting.

Steffens said: "The Big Three (Wilson, Lloyd George and Clemenceau) were gathered prior to the opening of the conference. Clemenceau asked the other two whether they really meant to establish a permanent peace. They most vociferously said that they did. Clemenceau clucked in his throat, Steffens reports, 'he pressed down the fingers of his gloves. And—' you have counted the cost of such a peace?' he asked."

"There was some hesitation at that. 'What costs?' 'Well,' said the French intelligence, 'if we give up all future wars we must give up our empires. You, Mr. George, you English will have to come out of India, for example; we French will have to come out of North Africa; and you Americans, Mr. President, you must get out of the Philippines and Porto Rico and leave Cuba alone. Oh, we can all go to these countries, but as tourists, traders and travellers; we cannot govern them any more or exploit or have the inside track on them. And yes, we shall have to tear down our tariff walls and open the whole world to free trade and traffic. These are some of the costs of permanent peace. It is a very expensive peace. We French are willing to pay all the costs of no more war in the world, but are you willing?'"

"The others were scandalized. No, no, they didn't mean that. 'Then,' said Clemenceau, fisting the table sharply once, 'then you don't mean peace. You mean war. And the time for us French to make war is now, when we have got one of our neighbors down; we shall finish him and get ready for—the next war.'"

That was 20 years ago. We still haven't finished this "next war". But we are winning. For ten of the last 30 years Canadian boys have stood on the bloody battlefields of Europe. Enough is enough. The San Francisco conference must and will be successful.

We are told by our Institute heads that we should publicize everything about our work and certainly the work deserves publicity.

As I listened to our reports at our last meeting I couldn't help but try to realize what they meant multiplied by hundreds—the war work—clothes and knitting and quilts, money given to this cause and that, sick and shut-ins remembered and then good papers given.

Even the election went off with a great deal of elan. Our scribe and Mrs. G. McChure, who had grown roots in our positions, retired and Mrs. Frank Williams is now president and Mrs. Bill Walker, secretary. The others went in again. Well, here's to publicity!

QUALITY!

"Take a good look at me. I'm SHUR-GAIN 16% Growing Mash — a feed designed to give your chicks exactly what they need to develop into strong, healthy pullets.

"Start feeding me to your chicks when they are six to eight weeks of age. At that age they are sufficiently developed so that a low-cost, balanced, growing mash can be used. And that's just what I am!

"I'm low in cost because in making me transportation charges were cut to a minimum and middlemen's profits were eliminated.

"I'm a balanced growing mash because I have exactly the right proportions of proteins, vitamins and minerals to maintain even, steady, growth, keep your pullets active with no excess fat, and build bones, flesh and feathers.

"I'm a fresh feed, too. Growing chicks like me on that account and they'll eat more of me. You see, I'm made up as needed by you, Mr. Farmer, and for that reason I never go stale in the storage bins.

"Yes sir, more flock owners than ever before are using SHUR-GAIN 16% Growing Mash. You can get me right at the mills shown below. I'm waiting there — ready to help you make more profit from your chicks so that they'll start laying early next fall and lay steadily all through the winter."

Appeal Judgment Allowing Sale Of Newspaper Shares

The following appeal has been filed in the Supreme Court of Ontario between Andrew Olding Hebb, plaintiff, and Postmaster General William P. Mulock and Newmarket Era and Express Limited, defendants.

NOTICE OF APPEAL

TAKE NOTICE that the plaintiff appeals to the Court of Appeal from the judgment pronounced by the Honorable Mr. Justice Hogg on April 4, 1945, and asks that the said judgment may be reversed and that judgment should be entered for the plaintiff upon the following grounds:

1. That the said judgment is against the evidence and the weight of evidence.
2. That the learned trial judge erred in not holding that the option given to the defendant, Mulock, with respect to the purchase of the 25 shares in question (paragraph 3, agreement May 9, 1942) had expired.
3. That the allotment and issue of 25 shares of the defendant company to the defendant, Mulock, was a violation of the plaintiff's rights as a shareholder of the defendant company and the learned trial judge should have so held.

At the end of last year more than 188,000 men and women had been discharged from the Canadian armed forces. The number of discharges is running at about 2,000 a month.

Canada, which in the last year provided 73 percent of its war production for other allied nations, will provide 80 percent in the coming months.

SUPPORT GIVES THEM CONFIDENCE

"An army can move only as fast as its supplies." That truth is well established. Engineers and infantry need artillery support. All need ammunition... food... and they need moral support... proof that we, at home, are doing all we can to back them up.

Attack wins objectives. Support wins wars.

And that is where we, on the home front, fit into the war programme. We must furnish support. We must buy more Victory Bonds.

Bear in mind that part of the money which Victory Bonds provide is used to buy food which Canadian farmers produce and which is needed to feed our fighters and the fighting forces of our allies.

Victory Bonds are a good investment... the safest place that you can put your savings. You should buy them to have money for things you want to do when the war ends. (In case of emergency you can get cash for them.) All the money you invest in Victory Bonds comes back to you eventually. Meantime your bonds earn 3% interest.

Your banker will tell you it's good business to put your savings into Victory Bonds.

An Urgent Message from GEORGE DREW

JUNE 4th is Election Day for the members of our armed forces overseas from Ontario, as it is here at home. The arrangements which have been made provide ample time for the overseas vote to be taken. Special Returning Officers are already overseas.

Something more, however, must be done if our voters overseas are to know why an Ontario election was forced upon us at this time.

I appeal to each one of you who read this message to write NOW by airmail. Give our men and women overseas all the information you can and be sure to tell them the correct name of the Provincial Riding in which they are entitled to vote, and the name of the candidate. This is of the utmost importance because so many of them have never voted before and the difference between the names and boundaries of Provincial and Dominion Ridings make it doubly necessary that you be sure to give them the exact name of the Riding in which they are entitled to cast their ballot on June 4th.

If you are in doubt as to any details please call the Progressive Conservative Office in your locality and get the necessary information without delay.

Be sure to send this air mail today.
The election date June 4th.
The name of the Riding is _____
The name of the Candidate is _____

Yours sincerely,
George A. Drew

Nazis Know Total War On Own Soil — Soldier
"Again you have picked a choice time at which to have your smokes arrive," writes Sgt. Clarke Hill in a letter to the Newmarket Veterans' Association. "For the second time they have arrived just two days previous to my going on leave. I haven't seen any of the local boys for some time as I have been rather isolated but am reporting back to Bournemouth at the end of this leave."
"I'm thinking of doing bonny Scotland on this leave but the way things stand and with the prevailing weather I may have to postpone it until my next leave."
"I wish to express my sincere thanks to all the vets for the 300 cigarettes I received last week. They are always greatly appreciated," said Sgt. S. Dow in a letter to the Newmarket Veterans' Association.
"I have been in Germany for some time now and things are really going well. With the armies across the Rhine we are all looking forward to the great day of victory and our return to our homes and loved ones."
"The German people are finding out what total war is like now and on their own soil. I have not seen one building either in town or country that has not been damaged. The civilians I have seen seem far from the so-called super race."
"Thank you for the 300 cigarettes I received a few days ago," writes Sgt. Albert Lindenbaum.
"The last couple of months things have been pretty quiet with our unit. Since Christmas we have been in a rear area. However, in the near future we expect to move again. And each move now brings the end of the war so much closer. I am sure nobody will be sorry to see it finish."
"These days the news is very good and it is quite different from four years ago when I arrived overseas. In those days everything was so indefinite. Now we know that soon we shall all be homeward bound and it does feel good to know that."
"Again I wish to thank you for the cigarettes I received today," writes Cpl. G. W. Graves in a letter to the veterans.
"My mail has been held up since I have been in hospital and I have had no cigarettes. Of course the Red Cross has really been very good and with these cigarettes I am fixed very nicely for a while."
"I was wounded a few weeks ago and am recovering very quickly. We have had a few tough times but for the most part it hasn't been too bad. I guess we haven't nearly as much to complain about as you fellows in the last war had and if we do as good a job as you did we will have accomplished something worthwhile."
Cards of thanks were received from Rtn. E. W. Cole, Bdr. Norman Burling, S.P.O. A. G. Smith, T. R. Hilliard, E. J. Mosley, Harold Evans and Bob Benville.

DOWN THE CENTRE
Major Norman Johnson, former University of Toronto soccer star and for years the mainstay of the Aurora high school both as a player and a coach, is president of the Canadian amateur soccer club this year and with his experience and leadership should be able to round out a team capable of holding its own any place. The club expects to be able to play outside of camp and may be seen in action in the district.
Two more district men have received responsible posts in the Ontario lately. Frank Peplatt, of Newmarket player and resident and president of the baseball circuit operating at Maple Leaf stadium this year, has been elected to the executive of the Ontario Baseball Association and "Father" Peplatt should do much to settle the differences between the Toronto leagues and the Ontario association. Getting harmony at sports gatherings is about as tough as keeping everybody happy at the San Francisco conference but Frank is a real diplomat and will doubtless be able to accomplish a lot.
Douglas Smith of Toronto, former Aurora athlete and brother of Aurora's Frank Smith, has been named to the executive of the Ontario Softball Association. Doug has been one of the Queen City's leading sports executives for years, not only in softball but is past president of the T.A.S.A. but in hockey, basketball, as well, especially in inter-church leagues. Eventually he will wind up as president of the O.A.S.A. or we will miss our guess.
The trout fishing season opened in fine style, especially for our old friend, Shiner Davis, of Stouffville. "Shine", once the leading baseball umpire of the district, journeyed to a spot near Uxbridge (try and find out where) and brought back 23 speckled beauties. This is no fisherman's tale. They weren't baby ones either. Even in the palmy days of baseball you just had to mention fishing to "Shine" to get his eyes rolling and stop proceedings. With baseball a dead issue in Stouffville as you can guess, fishing is now his major sport.
Charlie Smith (C.W., Can't Win) is moving right along with the Yanks in action. A few months ago we reported him scrounging food in Belgium, now he is in the heart of Germany. But the Aurora boy still has his eyes on the racing world.
Back from overseas minus a hand, which he lost in Italy, is Vern Bowen, who played hockey and lacrosse against Aurora teams for Barrie Colts. Vern lost his hand when a land mine exploded and was one of six survivors out of 25 in the same advance up an Italian hill on Dec. 18. Seeing fellows like Bowen should inspire those of us at home to go out and buy one more bond. It might have been you or I. The least we can do is to invest in the best. When Vern enlisted he was a member of the Oshawa Generals and probably would have gone further to a fairly nice financial return in the hockey world. Now all sports are over for him. We need to say no more.
Hugh Haxton, once a great in the hockey world with University of Toronto and the world's champions Varsity Grads, has come back to the political field. Once Liberal member for Toronto Trinity, he is now the Liberal candidate in the Kingston riding. Hugh is a lieutenant-commander in the Royal Canadian Navy.
Lieut. Syl Apps, former Maple Leaf hockey star who graduated at the head of his class in March as an army officer, has been appointed to the training wing staff of the C.O.T.C. We need when Major Con Smythe has expressed doubt as to whether Apps and Billy Taylor are any better than the current favorites, Gus Bodnar and Teeter Kennedy. Despite the cleverness of these two young players, after seeing Taylor in action with No. 23 B.T.C. last winter, who can doubt that "Billy the Kid" could step back into his old post without any trouble? Apps has had a year out of hockey and the story may be a bit different with him. Taylor, incidentally, is a crackerjack softball infielder and will in all probability be trotted out by Maestro Lieut. Bob Kennedy of the Newmarket camp team this year.
Baseball fans of yesterday will remember Art Cloutier who toiled on the mound for Orillia Intermediates this year when Orillia won the north half of the Tri-County league and eliminated the Alex Kirkwood-Doe Devins Aurora team which included "Dooley" Butler, Hec Gordon, Harry King, the late Gene Underhill and all the rest of that great gang. Art is a south-paw of more than passing ability and had little trouble hand-cuffing the Aurora batters in that series.
An officer with No. 3 Armored Regiment at Camp Borden, Lieut. Cloutier, has decided to forsake bachelorhood and has chosen as his life partner a North York girl, Miss Volma Hennessy, formerly of Gormley and Whitechurch township. The happy event is scheduled for next week.
Did you know that once upon a time the national baseball league wore the uniforms used by players in colorful, or more so, than the nifties used in those days by girl softballers? It was back in 1881 that a rule was passed specifying that the players wear different uniforms according to the positions they played. The catcher, for instance, donned a scarlet ensemble. The pitchers wore light blue; first base, scarlet and white; second base, orange and black, and so on down the line. As you can guess, the players themselves and the fans didn't go for it and the idea died a natural death the same year. At the same time we have always felt the conventional grey and white uniforms with a colored trim were a bit too drab. But we guess nothing can be done about it.
Girls' softball appears headed for a big season and they have secured a grade A proxy in the person of our colleague, Del Gibney. That Aurora entry, however, quite frankly looks a little bit uncertain right now unless the girls buckle down to business and attend practice. First blow was when Charlie Cato decided to retire to the farm and the SHOUT THAT BECAME A WHISPER...

We've looked forward a long time to celebrating the installation of our millionth telephone. Now the great day has come and gone, with only a brief press notice to mark its passing. There are more important things to do just now. Besides, we won't be really happy until we can take care of every one of the more than 70,000 further applicants who today are waiting for telephones.

It may surprise you that 215,000 more Bell telephones are in service now than when war began. With telephone manufacturers, practically 100% on war orders, how was it done?
First, by using up all our reserve stock. And second, by making maximum use of reconditioned equipment. We have thus been able to meet—fully and on time—every essential war demand for telephone service. Only materials left over after these needs are met can be used to look after our "waiting list".
These unfilled orders are our constant concern. They involve much more than installing telephone sets. The job calls for additional wire, and cable, and intricate exchange apparatus, and all the other elements of a complete telephone system. And this, in turn, is just one part of the whole construction program we will undertake once men and materials are available.
It means lots of work ahead not only for every present Bell employee, whether at home or in the services, but for additional workers, too.
C. E. Blodale
Manager.

Mr. Hephurn said that the C.C.F. party was born in adversity and that it drew its support from the people who feared a return to the conditions of the 20's. "There will be no return to those conditions," he said. "Never again will money become the master of man. It will be man's servant." Mr. Hephurn said he had never opposed the right of the working man to form unions but that he had opposed the activities of union bosses such as "Two-Gun Martin" and others who have since been repudiated by the unions.

The Liberal party will lower the voting age to 18 years, he said. "A Liberal government will shoulder 90 percent of the school costs. A Liberal government will form a department of youth for the administration of the affairs of youth. Medical aid to expectant mothers will be supplied."

In Memoriam

Haught—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Wm. Penn Haught, who passed away May 4, 1941.

Four years have passed but still we miss him.

Never shall his memory fade.

Loving thoughts will always linger.

Round the grave where he is laid.

Lovingly remembered by his wife and family.

Lundy—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mary C. Lundy, who passed away May 8, 1943.

There is never a day that passes by but our thoughts reach out to you.

Never a joy that comes to us but we wish you could share it too.

And somehow as years pass onward, And memories richer grow, More tender still the love we hold.

For the dearest mother we know.

Lovingly remembered by daughter and son-in-law, Lettie and Ben.

Lundy—In loving memory of our dear grandmother, Mary C. Lundy, who passed away May 8, 1943.

You left sweet memories to blossom, Bearing fruits for the years to come.

In the lives of those who loved you, Precious memories of days that are gone.

Our lips cannot tell how we miss you.

Our hearts cannot tell what to say.

God alone knows how we miss you In a home that is lonesome today.

Too dearly loved to ever be forgotten. Burt, Laura and family.

Young People Must Have Spirit Of God Within, Padre Says

Greeted with fine weather, the annual military church parade to Aurora United church Sunday morning saw one of the largest congregations in many years tax the capacity of the church to the limit. The parade formed in the town park. There were over 400 in the parade.

The parade was led by C Coy., Queen's York Rangers, with Major Earl Bales as parade O.C. Officers on parade with the Yorks consisted of Capt. Tom Hopkins and C. J. Devins, Lieuts. Delroy Babcock, Donald Wade and Arnold Miller. C.S.M. Percy Lovell, Toronto, was R.S.M. of the parade. The Aurora high school cadets were under the command of Cadet Major Harold Corbett, with Capt. Peter King, George Stone, Vivian Neilly and Mavis Sisman in charge of the companies. The Aurora public school cadets were under the command of Cadet Major Ray Rogers, and Capt. Jim Cook and Anne Boulding.

The service was taken by Capt. the Rev. J. W. R. Shires, Toronto.

to, padre of the county unit, assisted by the pastor, Rev. Roy Hicks. Major Earl Bales read the scripture lesson.

"We must ask ourselves can the battered, war-torn nations of Europe live again as we approach the hour of victory," Capt. Shires said. "It would not be sufficient for there to be rebuilding and rehabilitation unless the nations 'had the spirit of God' in their lives."

Capt. Shires pointed out how France had turned from religion and how might had suppressed freedom of worship in Germany. Many of the United Nations, too, had partly turned from God's precepts, he said. A spiritual revival will be needed to make the nations of Europe take their true place again, he thought.

"Religion, patriotism and education are the mainstays of the British Empire," he continued, "religion, meaning a wholesome respect for God and freedom of worship, patriotism, not the selfish type but that which while being loyal to one's own country also saw the rights of others, and education in its truest sense of the word."

"The word Dominion had been chosen for Canada from the Bible," Mr. Shires said. "He shall have dominion from sea to sea" and it was up to Canadians to see that this was so if Canada was to attain its rightful place in the world.

"You young people who will shortly assume the responsibilities of your country must have the spirit of God within you," he concluded.

A special prayer was said that Canadians might properly conduct themselves in reverence and thankfulness to God when V-E day came.

Following the service the parade re-formed and marched to the park, with Lieut.-Col. C. H. Reeve, E.D., taking the salute in front of the post office.

Coming under the old you know classification is some information on track and field about some of the oldtimers of the district. Back in the 70's of the last century, one of the greatest athletes on the American continent was E. W. Johnston, who hailed from south of Newmarket. Johnston was all-around track champion at the famous Philadelphia Centennial and his performances were little short of miraculous for that day. He set a new world's record in the standing high jump of 5' 3", an event that you never see now and a record that would take some beating anytime, anywhere.

He is reputed to have been the first man to jump six feet in the running high jump. A mark still seldom reached in Canadian competition at least. In the standing broad jump he is said to have done 11 feet. As early as 1872 he had done a 50-second performance in the quarter mile.

Another Newmarket district man who was a regular one-man band when it came to track events is said to have been Bond Hall, reputed to have been the first Canadian to do ten seconds flat in the 100 yards and conqueror of Cozard and Adsidy, the great American sprinters of the 80's. Another who could breeze home in fast time at the century sprint was Billy Bingham of Bradford, who in the 80's is reputed to have run it in ten seconds and also could do the 60 yards in six seconds. The tracks, shoes, training equipment and everything that goes to make for record-breaking performances now were of course non-existent then.

Hall is also said to have been the first to jump around 22 feet in the running broad jump. We have thumb record books but can't seem to find any of these feats listed, but having checked with some of the oldsters as to the authenticity of these claims, we are forced to accept them as they stand.

Unfortunately for posterity, record-keeping and timing was not all it might have been in those days but suffice to say these fellows must have been pretty good to do what they did and to have their feats linger through the years. Johnston, especially, must have been a remarkable figure in the sports world and we intend sometime when we have the opportunity to check his career a little more thoroughly.

Bucko McDonald of New York Rangers is nominated as a political candidate in the riding of Parry Sound. Except by sight and reputation we know little about him. Personal qualifications, however, in the past have not always meant that the riding had a good job done for them. McDonald has been a "character" on the sports pages for quite a few moons, but in lacrosse and hockey and his rugged, bashing style endeared him to the hearts of the fans. He always gave his best. He was the subject of some highly humorous articles by Frank Selke, Maple Leafs publicity director in the now departed Alton Tiffin series. Donald, like Flash Hollett, was a converted lacrosse player who "just grew up" by accident in hockey. He was born in Fergus and is now 32 and about finished as a hockey player. Our scouts report he is quite popular among the young and old of the district and can call most people by their first names, fairly strong recommendation as initial for a would-be politician.

Another sports figure nominated besides George Panter, vice-president of the O.H.A., Col. Merrick V.C. Major "Tiger" Welsh and others is Arthur Badley of Elora who sat on the O.H.A. executive for some years.

We were surprised to learn the other day that Doc Ames, who is another political contender, was born in Newfoundland but such is the case. Doc, who is now 37, has a reasonably good chance to capture a seat in the House of Commons according to the boys up north. The ex-Newmarket Redman is a fluent speaker and has strong support from the labor unions of the district.

Herb Cain, back again in Newmarket for off-season employment, was in action at the Aurora Golf club last Sunday and was banging the pill down the fairway with rare abandon, if lacking some control. Larry Molyneux, Herman Gilroy and Art Peppitt were others from canaltown who showed good form for so early in the season.

Kid baseball is due to be organized shortly in the district and it looks as if it will be bigger and better than last season. Newmarket, Richmond Hill, Markham and Aurora will be back again with at least two teams in most cases. Newmarket is yet to be heard from while Willowdale will have a couple of teams and Milliken is also due to enter. There is some possibility, too, of Stouffville and Unionville coming up with teams. Whether or not Grant Nighswander will be on hand with Richmond Hill remains to be seen. The death of his father may necessitate his moving to Markham for business reasons for the summer, in which case, he will probably aid the Markies. Officer Howard Jackman and young Mac Clement will be on hand for the Hill in any case so they will be pretty well looked after.

There may be two groups created this season to make the transportation problem a little easier. It is an encouraging sign, however, to see how well things are going in minor sports in the district and an answer to the sports of the future. Equipment this year is not too plentiful and again we emphasize that if anyone has any sporting equipment going to waste, it would be better to give it to the youngsters than to see it lying idle. Most of the kids in the services, too, would be glad to see their sports kit given to the kids rather than lay idle at home.

Postwar plans are being well advanced in most centres. Now Toronto is planning a municipal swimming pool as well as new planning an artificial arena and no sports fields. Scarborough is it going all along the line. Look at the kids of North York who just not going to have a municipal swimming pool for some years to come, unless definite plans are laid now. Once the war is over it will be so easy to postpone, to have enthusiasm dropped. But if definite plans are laid, or even financial obligations entered into at this time results will follow. Let's get started without further delay.

MAGISTRATES COURT Three Youths Remanded In Grocery Break-In

Two 18-year-old soldiers, who had been stationed at the Newmarket military camp, pleaded guilty in police court here on Tuesday to a charge of breaking and entering the Red and White grocery store during the night of April 23 and stealing cigarettes to the value of $16. Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe remanded them one week for judgment. A third soldier, who also pleaded guilty to the same charge, was remanded until April 24, when he arrived at the store, he found his father and Acting Chief Constable James Leader investigating the break-in of the store. He stated that he estimated cigarettes to the value of about $20 were taken from the store and $1 in copiers taken from the till.

Questioned by Crown Attorney Arleigh Armstrong, the witness stated that entrance into the store had been made by forcing a shutter and taking a pane of glass out of a window at the rear of the building. Chief Leader told his worship the moulding had been pried from the window and the glass removed, enabling accused to put their hands inside and turn the door knob. The officer stated that as a result of the investigation he took the three soldiers into custody and cautioned them. In the statement he said the two defendants admitted breaking into the store at about 11.30 p.m. on April 23 after they had attended the theatre. In a statement made by the third defendant, he admitted receiving three packages of cigarettes, knowing them to have been stolen.

County Constable Ronald Watt testified that he had been present when the youths had been cautioned and questioned.

"I might say that these boys gave us every co-operation," stated the officer. "They said they wanted to get it off their chest and cleared up."

The third defendant told his worship that he had been given a package of cigarettes after breakfast the following morning. He said he did not know that they were stolen until later on the way to London with the rest of his troop when he was given two more packages of cigarettes and told they were stolen.

"I can't accept your story that you didn't know some of the cigarettes were stolen," stated Magistrate Woodliffe. "When you were given three packages you should have known they were stolen. You also admitted in your written statement that you knew this."

Pleading guilty to a charge of careless driving on Yonge St., Mrs. Helen Newburn, R. R. 3, Newmarket, was fined $25 and costs of $2 with an alternative of ten days in jail.

Provincial Constable William A. Melbourne told his worship that he had stopped the car driven by the defendant on the highway on April 15 because it was zig-zagging across the pavement and interfering with traffic.

His worship adjourned the case of Mr. and Mrs. J. Woodcock, Newmarket, for one month for judgment. The defendants had pleaded not guilty to a charge of failing to send their children to school. Mrs. Louise Hamilton, school attendance officer, told his worship that one of the defendants' children, who is under the age of 14, had been absent 38 days.

Other cases disposed of by Magistrate Woodliffe were: Allan Profit, Aurora, fined $10 and costs for failing to have a driver's license and $5 and costs for failing to have 1945 license plates on his car. Chief Leader laid the charges.

On a charge of illegal parking in Newmarket, William Hampson, R. R. 2, Aurora, was fined $1 and costs. Constable W. Curtis laid the charge.

"Many thanks for the cigarette I received today," writes Cpl. Jack Williams in a letter to Newmarket Veterans' Association. "They travelled back to me from Germany and I guess they were a little late, but I certainly appreciate them."

"You might be interested to know that we held an old boys reunion of sorts here last week. 'Sgt. Alf. Harden came to see Sgt. Hamilton and Ken Bishop who are on the staff here and they in turn came to see Garnet Trivett and myself who are patients here."

"It was sure good to see them again and talk over old times. Jack brought out some copies of the Newmarket Era and Express. I hadn't seen an Era since before last February. Thank you for sending me the Era. I don't know who sends me it but I imagine you people do."

"This is a marvellous hospital. It certainly has a good name. The plastic surgery they do here is really wonderful. They fix a person up well and quickly. 'Again thanks for the cigarette and the copies of The Era and Express. I hope to thank you personally soon, because I've signed my papers for return to Canada, and I hope to return soon."

"Just a few lines to let you know I have received my cigarette," says Pte. J. S. Coddin in a letter of thanks to the Veterans. "It sure is a treat when coming out from the front, where we often run out of Canadian smokes, to have some waiting for us. At present I have a good supply, but there are always some of my fighting pals who seem to have hard luck in getting their fags."

"I was very sorry to hear that Garnet Trivett and Jack Williams have been wounded. I saw them both not many weeks ago in Germany."

"Many thanks for the cigarette which you have again so kindly sent me," writes Lieut. D. A. Elines to the Veterans. "After our long move from Italy up to this front our mail and cigarette parcels have been slow catching up to us. And with our money being changed so often we have been unable to buy things."

"Once again may I thank the Veterans for their gift of cigarettes," writes Q.M.S. J. R. Eustace. "They arrived at a time when I was really in need."

"At present I am at a convalescent depot in England after being laid up for several weeks in hospital. Was flown over from Belgium the last of March."

"You will be glad to know that I met Sgt. Elphinstone. He was visiting a friend in the next ward. He is looking fine and at present is acting C.S.M. of his unit."

THE PATHFINDER
A GUIDE TO CAREERS

Article Two
Reliable statistics report that there are 29,000 different occupations in the United States. The occupational pattern is much the same in Canada but, curiously, while the number of different kinds of occupations is larger than ever before, the difficulty of choosing an occupation seems also to be greater. Counsellors in guidance do not recommend that you should secure this list of occupations and go through them one by one until you come to one you think you would like but rather that you try to discover your occupational interests and then explore a certain field or area of employment.

For instance, if you are interested in handling and working with tangible things the general field of industry might be indicated; if the movement of goods and of people and messages holds appeal for you, the field of transportation could be investigated; if trading and finance make any appeal, there is the area of business with its manifold opportunities; if you feel that you have special talents that could be used for the good of the community, then the professions may provide an opportunity; if you like working directly with people, there is the field of personal services; and in the area of public service are the employment opportunities that are available through civil service, municipal and public utility appointments.

These six fields or areas of employment may be a starting point for your vocational studies but there are other ways of tackling the problem and these will be presented in future articles. If, however, you can become quite interested in a field of work, you are on the right track vocationally and you will accumulate ideas that will help you in the proper selection of courses.

I can recall the case of a student of some years ago who had the ability to enter the professional field but who through carelessness or some other cause, chose the wrong course in high school, with the result that he was never able to secure the standing necessary for entrance to university. Vocational advice is a difficult problem.

The choice of an occupation may mean, and probably will mean, that you will have to leave home. In the long run, this is probably a good thing, but difficulties of a family nature may make you wish to remain at home for some considerable time and once you have been able to select a field of occupation therein, you should make it your concern to find out whether you can get the education you need in your own neighborhood and then, whether there are any opportunities in your immediate surroundings where you can get to work in your chosen occupation.

There is quite enough here for discussion and thought until our next article appears, so we may conclude by adding a few questions. 1. Students express a definite interest in later occupations and are found to be working in something quite different. What is probably the principal reason? 2. What is the difference between a producing occupation and a service occupation? 3. In which do you suppose are the most people employed—agricultural, manufacturing or service occupations?

MEN GET MARRIED TOO

The following is reprinted from the Toronto News Record: John and son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jones, Pleasant Villa, became the bridegroom of Miss Elizabeth Smith at high noon today. The ceremony took place at the home of the groom's parents and a full house was counted. Mr. Jones was attended by Mr. Brown as groomsmen.

As the groom approached the altar, he was the centre of all eyes. Blushing prettily, he replied to the questions of the clergyman in low tones, but firm. He was charmingly clad in a three-piece suit, consisting of a coat, vest and pants. The coat of dark material was draped about his shoulders and tastefully gathered under the arms. A pretty story was current among the wedding guests that the coat was the same one worn by his father and grandfather on their wedding days. Mr. Jones does not deny the truth of the sentimental touch. The vest was sleeveless and met in front. It was gracefully fashioned with pockets and at the back held together with a strap and buckle. Conspicuous on the front of the vest was the groom's favorite piece of jewelry, a fraternal pin, and from the upper left hand pocket was suspended a large watch, the bride's gift to the groom, which flashed and gave the needed touch of brilliance to a costume in perfect taste and harmony.

The groom's pants were of dark worsted and were suspended from the waist, falling in a straight line almost to the floor. The severe simplicity of the garment was relieved by the right pantaloons, which was caught up about four inches by a Boston garter worn underneath, revealing just the artistic glimpse of brown Hosiery above the genuine leather shoes, laced with strings of the same color. The effect was rather chic. Beneath the vest the groom wore blue galuses, attached fore and aft to the pants and passing in a graceful curve over each shoulder. This pretty and useful part of the costume would have passed unnoticed had not the groom muffed the ring when the groomsmen passed it to him. When he stooped to recover the errant ringlet, the cerulean blue of the galuses was prettily revealed. His neck was encircled with a collar characterized by a delicate pearl tint of old-fashioned celluloid and around the collar a cravat was loosely knotted, exposing a collar button of bright metal. The cravat extended up and under the left ear with that studied carelessness which marks supreme artistry in dress. Mr. Brown's costume was essentially like the groom's and as the two stood at the altar a bush of Ruth Herman and Alex Polak, young people who came from Czechoslovakia to Canada just before the outbreak of war in 1939, will speak at the evening service in the United church next Sunday. In 1939 they were children, coming with their parents and other Czechs who were leaving the country because of the Nazi invasion which was then imminent. One of them could speak no English, the other very little. Yet both have recently been winners in Ontario schools oratorical contests.

Their visit has been arranged by a Keswick old boy, Gladstone Marritt, representative of the Ontario department of agriculture in Wentworth county. Mr. Marritt has sponsored them in their public speaking efforts and, since the contests, has had them speak at several points in Wentworth. A third member of the party, Ruth Abel, will sing.

The service has been designated a Youth Good Will Service and will be held at the usual hour of eight. Young people will be especially interested, but it is believed that everyone will find the occasion an inspiring and helpful one.

Dr. Archer Wallace and Rev. C. E. Fockler of Maple, were guests in Keswick when the former, who is editor of Sunday-school papers for the United Church of Canada, delivered an illustrated lecture on Labrador and Newfoundland. Despite the stormy weather, about 250 people were in attendance. The net proceeds of slightly more than $40 were applied on the purchase price of a new projection lantern. Miss Margaret Fockler, Maple, was a weekend guest of Mrs. P. F. Winch.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Boothby and children have moved from Newmarket to Keswick.

Frank Culverwell, Sulton, and Lawrence Cotton, Newmarket, were special speakers at the United church last Sunday when the work of the North York Girls' and Boys' camps was presented.

Lawrence Cotton, who represented North York in the Ontario Boys' Parliament, was the guest of Donald Winch on Sunday and a guest at the manse overnight.

When the Woman's Missionary Society meets in the United church Thursday afternoon, May 10, at 3 o'clock, members are invited to bring their annual contributions for the bales which is packed and sent to one of the northern mission hospitals.

World-wide organization of agriculture as a basis for "economic peace" was urged by James Turner, president of the National Farmers' Union of England and Wales, while visiting Canada.

admiration enveloped the audience at the complete and wonderful harmony of the raiment. Actually you could hardly have told one from the other had it not been for a patch of court plaster worn by the groom over the nick in his chin made by a safety razor. Neither Mr. Jones nor Mr. Brown wore a hat at the ceremony.

As Miss Elizabeth Smith led the groom from the nuptials, it was noted that she wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms.

the U.S.A. He went to Centenary United church, Hamilton, in June, 1937. Capt. Rawson ordinarily speaks each Sunday evening in what is regarded as consistently the largest evening congregation in Canada. It is necessary to be in the church at least a half-hour before the time of starting to get a good seat, and people who come on an ordinary Sunday night at 15 or 10 minutes of the hour, are often turned away. Regularly, between 1,500 and 1,600 people listen to his messages.

been such as to gain the admiration of all the world.

"We are all proud of the part played by our prime minister at the San Francisco conference. I am satisfied that the people of Canada and York North will want Prime Minister Mackenzie King to represent them at the peace table, a task for which he is so admirably suited.

"Our great challenge is to provide jobs for the veterans, those brave and gallant lads who will be returning soon. We must provide the better world for which they are fighting. That is the task to which the Liberal party has dedicated itself. I am very proud to carry the banner of that party in this riding."

Mr. Scott, the provincial candidate, spoke briefly, thanking those who had supported him as the provincial nominee. "I will do my best as your candidate in the coming election," he said.

Bright Colors Feature Ladies' Softball League

By BERNIE GANTNER

With the formation of a Newmarket Ladies' Softball League, interest along this line should take an upward swing within the next few weeks when hostilities are scheduled to commence. Four teams have signified intention to start the season, two local squads, one from Aurora and a fourth from the C.W.A.C. at No. 23.

A meeting of the league executive was held Monday evening and Del. Gibney, league proxy, stated opening ceremonies are slated for May 29. Contestants for the opening assignment have not been made. The present set-up in the ladies' softball circuit promises to be the most successful venture since the days of the Tri-County ladies' league of the late thirties.

The chief problem at the present time is selecting monikers for the two local teams. Suggestions are welcomed and may be submitted to the league committee of Gibney, Giovannelli and Howard. No doubt the respective team managers, and it is rumored Rudy Ruddock and Frank Courtney have the inside track, will be glad to have suggestions to help relieve them of some of their burden.

Perhaps it would be enlightening to give readers some idea of the color scheme of the two teams' uniforms. One local nine will sport red sweaters with white crests and royal blue bloomers with white stripes down the sides. The other aggregation will have maroon crests on a golden background. The lower gear will be maroon bloomers with gold stripes. "Red Raiders" was a name suggested for the first team mentioned above. Now how about it, Newmarket sports enthusiasts—you can be of great assistance in helping to select a suitable, appealing team name.

The C.W.A.C. under the guidance of Capt. Bing Caswell had an initial workout Tuesday night. Twelve candidates answered the call for lady softballers with more expected out at the next session. It is too early to determine the relative strength and merit of the team but the camp expects to field a very strong contender.

Development of an army program of counselling for rehabilitation has been announced by national defence headquarters at Ottawa. The directorate of personnel selection has been charged with the training of army examiners and counsellors and is sponsoring a series of courses in co-operation with the department of veterans' affairs.

In selecting service counsellors, preference is given to officers with battle experience and to those who have suffered disabilities. Other mature men with extensive civilian experience and a good educational background may also be chosen. All will be given a training in personnel selection and subsequently in service counselling.

Greater responsibility is being assumed by the army under the new set-up and each soldier is assured full personal counsel with regard to his re-establishment in civilian life. Army counsellors will make out a report for the rehabilitation centre on each discharge, and will include a recommendation for rehabilitation action. The ex-serviceman will be referred to the centre on discharge.

Personnel entering the field of rehabilitation counselling are required to spend several weeks at a depot prior to receiving formal training in personnel selection. After a month's training they are given further experience as army examiners. Those who qualify will go on to a counselling course conducted for two weeks by the department of veterans' affairs and for two weeks under army sponsorship.

First half of this training is a general course of study which includes thorough grounding in rehabilitation legislation, procedure and organization of the department of veterans' affairs, and the review of typical cases. In addition to the army, navy and air force personnel there are veterans' welfare officers, representatives of the department of labor, employment managers and social workers on the course. C.W.A.C. officers are included among the army personnel.

In the second phase, the army conducts its own courses in Toronto, with male officers training at No. 2 District Depot and the women at 102 depot company (C.W.A.C.). Special attention is given to the technique of counselling and to actual problems which will be encountered. The officers learn about the service interview summary which they will complete for each discharged soldier and pass on to the district rehabilitation centre.

Plans are under way for expansion of existing rehabilitation centres and for the addition of new ones at points across Canada. Eventually there will be 20 centres in all.

Service counsellors will urge discharged army personnel to visit the rehabilitation centre before proceeding to their homes. For the benefit of those whose permanent residence is at a distance from a centre, department of veterans' affairs will have trained representatives stationed at the 275 local offices of the department of labor and of the veterans' land act.

Teeth Marks In Cheese Lead To Three Arrests

A bite out of a piece of cheese led to the arrest of two soldiers charged with breaking into the Red and White grocery store on Main St. and the arrest of a third on charge of receiving stolen goods. In magistrate's court this week, two of the men pleaded guilty to the charge and were remanded. The third was found guilty and remanded. The arrests were made by Acting Chief Constable James E. Leeder.

Chief Leeder said that when inspecting the store after the robbery, he found a piece of cheese which had had a bite taken out of it by one of the burglars. The markings left on the cheese were quite evident and showed that whoever had taken the bite had had a tooth missing.

Acting on information that three soldiers were seen near the store the night of the robbery, Chief Leeder had a plaster cast taken of the cheese and with it went up to the military camp where six men were found with teeth that fitted the cast. One of the six men had been A.V.O.L. the night of the robbery and after questioning he admitted having broken into the store.

HI-LIGHTS OF N.H.S.

Last Friday, the boys' senior oratorical contest was held in a special assembly. Keith Brandon, speaking on "Why He Elsewhere?" was awarded first prize. Tommy Dales, speaking on the "Jap Soldier," was awarded second prize.

Mr. Lockhart announced that following the proclamation of V-E day, school will be dismissed and the following day will be a holiday.

Assembly was addressed by FO J. G. Tomdale on behalf of the Eighth Victory Loan. He was introduced by Rev. Henry Cotton. FO Tomdale had with him a machine gun from the turret of a bomber. He described his duties as a gunner by telling of a raid over Germany with Düsseldorf as target.
